LEADERSHIP

I was the team captain of the Roanoke College club baseball team.
I lead a team of close friends that work on personal projects like games and applications of interesting algorithms or libraries we find.
I have also taken on leadership roles for programming competitions that my college took place in.

Skills Legend:
(E) Expert: I can use it only needing to use a reference for more obscure features.
(N) Novice: I can use it with little problem, but I frequently need a reference.
(B) Beginner: I am currently learning it.
